

A lesson to be learned from the HOLOCAUST

The story of the world's darkest hours is told in "The Holocaust: We Are Witnesses." This student curriculum guide is designed to create an understanding of what can happen when prejudice and racism are fostered by society. It offers students an introduction to the Holocaust, traces its history through the rise and fall of Nazi politics, and offers lessons for today.

How can you help? Join other generous Sun Sentinel News in Education subscribers and corporate sponsors in placing these important materials in South Florida classrooms. Together, we can reach area students with this valuable information.
